

Free Guided Tours in Ueno Park

Ueno Toshogu Shrine

Hanazono Inari Shrine

Come and discover the hidden charms of Ueno! Ueno Park was originally a temple to the family of the Tokugawa shoguns, but the area later became a battle field in the civil war of the nineteenth century, which resulted in the Meiji era and the dawn of Japan's westernization. In this tour you can visit ruins and other sites of the Edo period (the Tokugawa shogunate), the civil war, and the Meiji era.

Days

Wednesday, Friday,
Saturday or Sunday

Starting times

10:30 a.m. or 1:30 p.m.

Time required

About 90 minutes

After the tour

Shitamachi Museum

Located by the Shinobazu Pond, Shitamachi Museum was established to preserve the local life style, culture and tradition of the old town, known as the Shitamachi, from the 1860s to 1940s. Most of the historical objects on display may be touched and picked up. There are also exhibitions of seasonal events, providing a sense of what life was like for the common people of Tokyo some 100 years ago. A free guided tour in English is available.

Meeting Point

Entrance of the Ueno Park Management Office. Please arrive 10 minutes before the start time.

Google Map

Important Notice

The number of participants may be limited on a first-come, first-served basis. The tour may be canceled without prior notice.